Thinking about going out on your own, but don't know where to start?

From what technology to use, to office space versus a virtual office, there are so many decisions to make. In a changing landscape of the delivery of legal services, there are a number of options that get away from traditional notions of what a law practice should look like.

But, setting up a sole or small practice doesn't have to be a daunting venture!

This program has been designed to give you a good handle on where to start and what questions to ask. Four different lawyers who set up practices in different ways with different levels of seniority will share their stories on how they did it in a roundtable discussion.

Speakers: Gosia Bawolska, Cadence Litigation
William Hutcheson, Hutcheson Law
Erin Cowling, Flex Legal Network Inc.
Noah Singer, Singer Business Law

Moderator: Tannis Waugh, Tannis A. Waugh, PC
